HAWAII'S SMOTHER PORTUGUESE IN FAST GAME

Barney Joy Pitches Air-Tight Ball While P. A. C. Twirlers Are Hit Hard

Hawaii 7, Portuguese 0.

The Hawaiians had their collective batting eye working overtime yesterday, and what they did to Scott and Medeiros, reduced to cold figures, totaled 15 hits for seven runs. Every man on the team got at least one safe swing, while En Sue and Fernandez cleaned up three apiece. On the other hand, Barney Joy pitched air-tight ball, and only two hits at the tail end of the game were collected off his delivery. The first 30 men to face the big fellow never saw first base, and then a juggled fly by En Sue gave a batter life. Two were gone in the eighth before the first hit was recorded, La Mere coming out a hard one to the right field fence. At that Fernandez came very near appearing it, and would probably have done so but for a fence brace that blocked his run. In the last frame Bushnell landed on one that went sailing over En Sue's head, and was good for two bags. Besides having everything on the ball, Joy's control was excellent, and he did not issue a single pass. All in all the big fellow was in about the best form of the season.

The Hawaiians started to work the score board boy in the first inning. En Sue went out short to first, but Ayau waited out a free ride and went to third on Chillingworth's slashing double to right, scoring on Fernandez timely single to left. In the second the Hawaiians got one hit, and when the third frame came up Tony Medeiros was sent into the box. Scott going to center, and M. Ornelas trying to the bench. Up to the seventh inning no more runs came across, but in that frame the entire Hawaii team took a look at Medeiros' shoots and starts, and five hits, two of them for extra bases, together with an error, netted four runs. Fusillade of hits.

Desha started off with a hit, and Ayau followed suit with a two-bagger. Then En Sue bunted, and Medeiros, watching for a play at the plate, let him get to first, filling the bags with no one gone. Ayau sent a bouncer between third and short, and Sousa, running in to field it, got his feet mixed up. Desha scoring. Medeiros then hit Chilly in the ribs, forcing in a run. Fernandez hit, scoring En Sue and Ayau. Then Franco was safe on the play that retired Chillingworth at the plate, and Joy hit for two bases. Dreier filed to Swinton in left, ending the agony.

In the eighth, three hits, two of them two baggers, brought two more runs across, ending the scoring. The game was full of sharp fielding, and up to the seventh was as good as anyone could wish to see. It was played in 1 hour and 18 minutes, and was not marred by any squabbles or disputes. Several players on both sides showed up to special advantage. Swinton making a couple of dandy catches in left, one almost in the bleachers. Fernandez turning a pretty trick in right, Sousa making a spectacular stab of Dreier's infield fly, and Williamson showing some quick headwork by retrieving a booted ball and shooting it to third in time to get his man. En Sue made a couple of nice catches in his section of the garden, but spoiling his clean record by juggling Ornelas' fly, possibly on account of the sun, and of misjudging the speed of Bushnell's two-bagger. Scott had nothing on the ball for the two innings that he pitched, and then performed far below his usual form in the field.

A big crowd saw the game, and those not fortunate enough to attend ball games in motor cars, "coasted out" the condition of the approach to the ball park, which was ankle deep in mud. Whether it is the business of the park management to keep up this road, or not, it would certainly be policy to do so. A few hand-rails of rice husk won't answer the purpose, and the alleged sidewalk is so broken down and full of holes as to be positively dangerous. The public is giving Athletic Park good support, and is entitled to better accommodations.

Yesterday's game makes the pennant series between the winners of the two halves of the season one and one, with one tie game. The next game will be played next Sunday. The game for the Junior League championship between the Pavaas and the C. A. U. was not played, on account of wet grounds. These two teams have also a game apiece to their credit.

Honolulu Boys Make Good in Eastern Sport

Rex Hitchcock, Atherton Gilman and Fred Withington did not by any means do all the representing of Hawaii on eastern gridirons this fall, but owing to a series of minor accidents other Honolulu boys failed to make the showing they deserved. News has come that Rex Hitchcock, former Punahou star and Rex's little brother—not so little, either—didn't get into the Harvard-Yale freshman game because he broke his thumb two or three days before the game. He had been playing a fast game at left half. While Hitchcock is at Exeter and plays a sub-end there, but he didn't get to play when Exeter trimmed Andover 59 to 0, the biggest upset in years at the rival academies.

CHINESE TAKE ANOTHER FROM TWENTY-FIFTH

Chinese 8, 25th Infantry 2.

The 25th Infantry took a second defeat at the hands and bats of the All-Chinese Saturday afternoon at Athletic park, and a rather decisive one at that. Not only were the soldiers out-batted, and out-fielded, but they were out-guessed as well, only a few members of the champion Schofield Barracks team using their heads to any extent. There is still a chance for the soldiers to come through with a brilliant rally and take the next two games, and reports from Lelihu indicate that every member of the regiment, from the colonel down, is working hard to retrieve the fallen fortunes of the once classy team.

Ayau, with rock-like support behind him, held the soldiers down to four scattered hits, while Willis was touched for nine, which came in bunches at just the time when they would count in the run column. The 25th team made seven errors, most of which proved costly.

The Chinese got onto the score board in the second, getting a man across on errors and a double steal, but without a hit. The third frame was the decisive one, however, the Chinese getting four runs out of three hits. With one gone, Ping Kong singled, and En Sue bunted safe. Ayau was safe on Hayes' muff, and a man scored. Lai Tin hit to left, scoring En Sue, and Ayau came across on first's error, a wild pitch later accounting for Tin's tally.

The soldiers also scored in the fourth. Swinton was hit, but was forced at second by Willis. Slaughterer hit, and then an out at first, a passed ball and an error by Lai Tin let the two runners in.

The Chinese scored one in the fifth and two more in the eighth, when Ping Kong's triple bagger cleared the bases. The little rightfielder was called out for not touching second, however.

THIS MAN SWAM THE BIG DITCH

COMMODORE ALFRED BROWN of College Point, N. Y., the celebrated life saver and long-distance swimmer, who on Nov. 25, completed a swim through the Panama canal, from ocean to ocean, a distance of 48 miles. He recently swam from the Battery, New York City, to Sandy Hook, a distance of almost 30 miles.

EARLY OUTDOOR LIFE HELP TO CARLISLE MEN

CARLISLE, Pa.—When Glen Warner, the coast of the Carlisle football team, was asked if it were true that athletics are the end and aim of Indian education at Carlisle, he answered: "It's just about as wrong as it can be. Carlisle is an industrial school. The boys go to school half a day and work half a day. They never get into their togs and onto the practice field before 4:30 in the evening, and have to leave it at 5:30. When they get there they get right down to brass tacks. They work, but it's fun to them—their daily recreation."

"What about the work? Does it help or hinder?" he was asked. "Helps, of course," said Warner, emphatically. "It makes them more rugged and inured to physical exertion. Then the Indian boys come from country districts and a hardy, outdoor life before they come to the school. And that reminds me of another popular impression that should be removed. A great many people believe that the Indians on the team do nothing else but travel around and have a good time at the government's expense. As a matter of fact, Carlisle is so centrally located and the schedule is so arranged that the boys can complete their week's work and schooling, leave on Friday night and return on Sunday morning."

Warner declared the Indian must be a natural athlete. "There are only about a quarter of a million Indians in this country," he said. "But look at the showing they have made in athletics. Here in Carlisle we have only about 250 boys over 17 years old to choose the team from. Compare that with the big student bodies at Dartmouth, Cornell, Harvard, Northwestern, Princeton, University of Kansas, University of Michigan, University of Pennsylvania and Yale."

"I rather think," he said, "that this speaks something for the preponderance of athletic ability in the Indian. People forget, too, that there are approximately a dozen other Indian schools having a greater natural advantage for the drawing of pupils than Carlisle."

"Practically every Indian who has made good in athletics at Carlisle has made good in after life, or is well on the way to do so," Warner continued. "The brightest students have usually been the most capable players. Even the trips away to games are made to bring an educational value to the whole school. The fellows on the team are encouraged to give talks to their societies and classes on their return from each of these about the things they have seen and their impressions."

When asked what method he used in burning out players the Indian coach said: "I put all the available material on the field and teach them all the fundamentals. Practically none of the boys has any knowledge of sports when he comes here. Then, no matter how good they prove to be, they have to go through the mill. Because a man at first glance shows the material for a good back he is not played in that position alone. No man is considered too important to go through all the paces and play all the positions."

"That is one of the reasons for Carlisle's success on the gridiron and why there is, as a rule, no weakness on the team. It accounts, too, for a large measure of its success in spite of the fact that it has always been noted for lightness in weight—seldom averaging more than 170 pounds per man."

"Most of the best men have qualified in their first year, as, for instance, Joe Guyon and Calac, the star backs this year, who made last year's team as tackles. That was the first time either had played football, and they were converted into backs of the first class with only the experience gained in the line last year."

COMPANY B TOO MUCH FOR THE SECOND TOWNIES

From Fort Shafter defeated the second Town aggregation by a score of 6 to 0 Saturday afternoon on Alexander field. Throughout the four periods the playing was slow, and both teams showed that they sorely lacked practice and coaching.

Although the soldier team was composed of men who outweighed their opponents, they were seldom able to make a first down. Their backs were a bit slow and often the Town ends would come around from behind and down the man with the leather.

The second "Townies," under the leadership of Captain Decker put up a good fight, considering the fact that they only had two days practice and practically no coaching. In the last quarter they were within 10 yards of the soldiers' goal for about five minutes but lost the ball once through a bad pass and were held the next time until the final whistle blew. They tried a number of forward passes which were often successful, and in this way made their greatest number of yards.

Aurbach played well for the "Townies" at end, getting under everything that came his way and catching one pass that brought the town men five yards from their opponents' posts. Tinker on the other end also did well breaking up all the end runs that came to his side. The men who composed the back field were not able to show their ability since the ball was in the "doughboys" hands the greater part of the game.

Bosworth made the only score for the soldier team and was playing in style at quarter. He carried the ball for short gains a couple of other times and did well. Friar and Robinson did the lion's share of the work in the back field, carrying the ball most of the time. It was through two long gains by these men that the soldiers were able to put the ball over the line for a touchdown.

In the first quarter the ball changed hands in the middle of the field two or three times with nothing of significance happening. Both teams proved stronger on the defense than on the offense and only once were the soldiers able to make a first down. The second quarter saw the men from Shafter shove the ball over the line after two good gains by Friar and Robinson. During the rest of this period neither side had the advantage go through all the paces and play all the positions.

"That is one of the reasons for Carlisle's success on the gridiron and why there is, as a rule, no weakness on the team. It accounts, too, for a large measure of its success in spite of the fact that it has always been noted for lightness in weight—seldom averaging more than 170 pounds per man."

SOME FAST GAMES IN SHAFTER LEAGUE

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

FORT SHAFTER, Dec. 1.—The ball game for the regimental team on Saturday was with the Fort Ruger nine and was a walkover for the 2nd Infantry. The Ruger team was handicapped by the absence of their regular catcher and first baseman. After the 2nd Infantry had made eight rushes in the first turn at bat, the game lost interest for all concerned.

Sunday's games in the post league were more interesting. In the first game E company made its initial appearance and though beaten by the score of 3 to 1 by D company, their game was a creditable one and the team will bear watching by the other company nines.

The battery for D was Peed in the box and Lieutenant Lyman on the receiving end, and they worked well throughout the game. For E company, Mosier pitched for five innings and was then relieved by Ember, with Sergeant Duffy back of the plate.

The second game was between the Signal Corps and B company and went to B by a score of 3 to 2. Smith and Lerwitz working for B as the battery. Smith's pitching was a winning game with the stickwork of his teammates to hold up the scoring part of the game. The wig-waggers scored twice in the opening inning, but were not dangerous thereafter. Corporal McCue and Private Cribbs were chief and field umpire respectively and were off at times on decisions but tried hard. Attendance 500.

The standing, including Sunday's games, is as follows:

Company	P	W	L	Pct.
D	3	3	0	1.000
B	2	2	0	1.000
C	2	2	0	1.000
G	2	2	0	1.000
F	1	1	0	1.000
A	3	2	1	.667
I	4	2	2	.500
M	2	1	1	.500
H	3	1	2	.333
Signal Corps	4	1	3	.250
E	1	0	1	.000
L	2	0	2	.000
K	3	0	0	.000

The next athletic events with outside teams that have been arranged for the Fort Shafter aggregations are a football game with the Marine Corps team on Alexander field next Saturday at 2 p. m. in which the eleven from B company, 2nd Infantry, will take part, and a basketball game for the regimental team against the nine from Fort Kamehameha on the same afternoon. The baseball game will be called at 2:00 and will take place on the Fort Shafter diamond.

KAM ENDS WITH CLEAN VICTORY

The Kam cadet football team finished up the season Saturday by defeating the alumni eleven to the tune of 14-0 after playing a fast and exciting game. Lack of speed and team work accounted for the defeat of the alumni eleven.

James McKinney, who played at quarterback for the school, played a star game, making one long gain in the second quarter, coving 30 yards for a touchdown. Napthas, the speedy halfback, was responsible for the second score. McKinney kicked both goals.

For the alumni team Allan McGowan played a good game, breaking up many plays. In the second half the visitors were playing in great form and held the school boys down to no score. The ball was kept in their territory most of the time.

The line ups:
School Team—Among, f. e. Mo. r. t. S. McGowan c. Kawue l. g. Cockett, l. t. Kaapana l. e. McKinney c. b. Napthas r. h. b. Nipa f. b. Correa l. h. b.

and the leather remained near the middle of the field the greater part of the time left.

The third quarters was very much like the first, the ball remaining near the center of the field the greater part of the period. The soldiers through short gains were able to keep the leather in their hands most of the time but were not able to score. In the last period the town team took a noticeable brace and ran the ball down to their 20-yard line. Here a forward pass was tried and Tinker carried the pigskin 10 yards closer to the goal. On the next play the ball was passed over Decker's head and the soldiers recovered the ball. They soon lost it and Decker tried another pass to Aurbach. Aurbach ran for five yards and was downed right under the soldiers' goal but the town squad was not able to put it over in the remaining time.

TOWN TEAM'S TOUCHDOWN IN LAST QUARTER WIPES OUT TIE

Captain Schuman's Footballers Win from Fast Engineer Aggregation by Score of 14 to 7—Both Teams Are Evenly Matched and Playing Is Hard from Beginning to End—Vanner Stars for the Soldiers While Jimmie Hart Plays Fine Football for the Townies

BY HOWARD D. CASE.

By fumbling the ball on their 35-yard line in the last minute of play and allowing their opponents to recover it, carry it to within eight yards of the goal and then rushing it over for a touchdown, the members of 1st Lieut. Frank S. Benson's crack football aggregation from Company I, Engineers, Fort Shafter, went down to defeat before the champion Town team on Alexander field Saturday afternoon by a score of 14 to 7. With both teams evenly matched in weight and speed, light was the watchword from start to finish and not once did the game lack interest. Luck stepped in at the vital moment and favored Captain "Scotty" Schuman's eleven, leaving unbroken the winning streak which it has maintained throughout the present season.

The game Saturday was perhaps the best demonstration of hard, clean football seen in Honolulu this season and both elevens are deserving of credit for the manner in which they played. The greater experience of the Town team aided that aggregation materially, but the backs seemed to be unable to penetrate the stone wall formed by the Engineers, and were forced to bring end runs into play for the majority of gains. On the other hand, the Engineers made the greater number of their gains by short, fast bucks through the Townies' line. Punting and passing prevailed throughout, the latter proving to be a ground-gainer on many occasions. The Engineer kicker, however, was outdistanced by Andrews of the Town team, and on several occasions the latter booted the leather over the goal line from the kickoff. Vanner Proves a Find.

Quarterback Vanner of the Engineers has evidently had past experience in football, for from a point of view of the sidelines he did the

The last period was exciting from start to finish. After having lost on down, the Engineers punted and the ball was taken by Ross on the 15-yard line, who carried it to the 35 before he was downed. Andrews punted and the ball was received by the Engineers on the 40-yard line. Again the ball changed hands and, after several minutes of acrimony went to the soldiers on their 35-yard line. A fumble by the quarterback was recovered by Andrews, who carried it to the eighty-yard line. There was considerable discussion and reading of rules at this stage of the game and play was finally resumed with the ball in the Townies' possession. On the first down Ross was given the ball, he carrying it over for a touchdown. Andrews kicked goal and the tie was wiped out, the game ending with the score of 14 to 7 in favor of the Town team. Considerable time was lost throughout the game from the fact that the referee did not seem to have the rules of the contest well in hand. This should be avoided in future contests, as the waits are disagreeable to those on the sidelines.

It is hoped by the fans that the Engineers and the Town team will again be seen on the gridiron at an early date, for the brand of football which these two aggregations play is most acceptable. The line-ups at the beginning follow:
